Mr. Sanat Kumar Bhowmik

President / Chief Patron, Baikuntha College of Education

It is with great pride that I welcome you to the International Seminar 2026, hosted by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell of Baikuntha College of Education. This seminar's theme — Reimagining Teacher Training: Preparing Educators for 21st-Century Classrooms and Vikshit Bharat 2047 — speaks directly to a question every teacher-education institution must ask itself today: how do we prepare educators for classrooms that are still taking shape?

Since its founding, this College has held teacher training close to its purpose, in the conviction that the quality of a nation's classrooms can never rise above the quality of the teachers who stand in them. I am grateful to our Hon'ble Chief Guests, our Keynote Speaker, and every resource person — from within India and beyond — who has travelled to be part of this gathering.

This souvenir carries their voices, their work, and the spirit of today's conversation forward. I extend my warmest welcome to every delegate, and my sincere hope that these proceedings leave you enriched.

Sanat Kumar Bhowmik

President / Chief Patron, Baikuntha College of Education

Message from the Secretary

Mr. Pradyut Routh

Secretary, Baikuntha College of Education

On behalf of Baikuntha College of Education, it is my privilege to welcome each of you — our Chief Guests, our distinguished resource persons, our fellow educators, and our researchers and students — to the International Seminar 2026.

Organizing a seminar of this scale, with participants joining us from Sri Lanka, Nepal, and across India, has been the work of many hands: our Organizing Committee, our sub-committees, our faculty, and our student volunteers, each of whom I thank sincerely.

This souvenir has been compiled as a lasting record of the seminar — its programme, its people, and the ideas they bring to the table on reimagining teacher training for the classrooms of tomorrow. I hope it serves you well, both during these proceedings and long after, as a reference and a keepsake.

Pradyut Routh

Secretary, Baikuntha College of Education

About the College & IQAC

Baikuntha College of Education

Baikuntha College of Education is an NCTE-recognized institution committed to preparing capable, reflective, and socially responsive teachers for the classrooms of tomorrow. Guided by its Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), the College continually works to strengthen its academic programmes, pedagogy, and institutional practices in line with national priorities such as the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020.

Beyond the classroom, the College places equal emphasis on research, community engagement, and professional development — building a culture where teacher-educators, students, and researchers grow together. Hosting international academic seminars such as this one reflects the College's continuing commitment to bringing global perspectives into local teacher-education practice.

Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC)

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) works to sustain and enhance the quality of academic and administrative processes at Baikuntha College of Education. It plans and coordinates quality-related institutional initiatives, encourages a culture of self-evaluation and continuous improvement, and creates platforms — such as this International Seminar — for the College to engage with wider academic and policy conversations in teacher education.

About the Seminar — Concept Note

Teacher education today stands at a defining crossroads. The classroom of tomorrow will look very different from the classroom most of us grew up in — shaped by rapid technological change, increasingly diverse learner needs, and the national aspiration of building a Viksit Bharat by 2047. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, with its four-year integrated B.Ed. programme and its emphasis on multidisciplinary, practice-based teacher preparation, offers Indian teacher-education institutions a genuine opportunity to rebuild the profession from first principles rather than simply extend the old model.

This International Seminar — Reimagining Teacher Training: Preparing Educators for 21st-Century Classrooms and Vikshit Bharat 2047 — brings together policy thinkers, teacher-educators, and practitioners from India, Sri Lanka, and Nepal to examine this challenge from multiple angles: how technology is reshaping pedagogy and assessment; how teacher-training curricula must respond to increasingly diverse classrooms; and how institutional practice can close the gap between theoretical training and classroom-ready teaching.

The addresses and abstracts compiled in this volume represent a cross-section of this conversation. They are offered not as final answers, but as a considered starting point for the continuing work of reimagining how India prepares the teachers of its future.

Acknowledgements

This souvenir and the International Seminar 2026 would not have been possible without the guidance and support of the Governing Body of Baikuntha College of Education, whose approval and continued encouragement made this gathering possible.

We are deeply grateful to our Hon'ble Chief Guests, our Keynote Speaker, and every resource person — from Sri Lanka, Nepal, and across India — who accepted our invitation and shared their scholarship with us.

Our sincere thanks go to the Organizing Committee and every sub-committee — Academic & Technical, Reception & Hospitality, Publicity & Media, Discipline & Volunteer, and Report & Documentation — whose members worked tirelessly over several weeks to bring this seminar to life. We also thank our faculty colleagues, non-teaching staff, student volunteers, and every sponsor and well-wisher whose contribution, large or small, made today possible.

— Organizing Committee

International Seminar 2026, Baikuntha College of Education

THANK YOU

This souvenir brings together messages from our College leadership, the day's full programme, and the scholarship of our keynote speaker and resource persons for the International Seminar 2026 — Reimagining Teacher Training: Preparing Educators for 21st-Century Classrooms and Vikshit Bharat 2047.
